Over 70 years of Exceeding Expectations

In 1946, young Albert Braswell returned from World War II with a GI Bill and no job. Using his mom's recipe, he began selling pear preserves out of the back of his truck. Seventy years later, Braswell Food Company has grown into a true Southern tradition and one of the country's largest producers of specialty preserves, dressings, and condiments. All of our products are made in small batches, using only the finest all natural ingredients available.

Braswell's believes strongly in using packaging that is not only beautiful, but reusable and friendly to our environment as well. Preserves in European drinking glasses, dressings in Italian inspired wine carafes – it's a perfect combination of practicality, functionality and great taste. Braswell's products have received numerous awards, including several NASFT soft™ awards for product and packaging excellence.

Everyone's Talking about Braswell's!

Taste of the South Magazine

Braswell's Select...Not only is it recyclable, it's reusable. It's better for the environment to have it in glass.”

Chef Sara Moulton, Good Morning America

“The company's all-natural line of salad dressings come in perfectly Southern flavors, such as Vidalia Onion & Summer Tomato and Peach Vanilla. The attractive bottles have one brilliant feature: They're reusable!”

Fancy Food & Culinary Products Magazine

Old Fashioned Quality Packaged in Old Fashioned Glassware.

Albert Braswell founded our company in 1946 with a harvest of local pears and figs from his WWII buddy in California and his mom's recipes of famous preserves, jams and jellies, fruit butters and marmalades. More than seven decades later, we have kept our homemade quality while expanding our extensive product line. We're proud to be using our trademark Old Fashioned Glass that can be enjoyed for years after the delicious preserves are gone. It's elegant, friendly to the earth and the preserves always taste just as good as you remember.

Braswell's Carafe Dressings are a collection of unique recipes, like Vidalia® Onion Peppercorn, Extra Virgin Italian and Peach Vanilla – that use iconic Italian inspired glass serving carafes as containers. Our Carafe Dressings are ready to serve on any table and have the added value of being used again and again as a container, decorative accessory or any way that your imagination sees fit! Recycling is great, but reusing is even better, especially when it's done with taste and style.
